Cooperation is selected even while defection remains an equilibrium

Every distinct Nash cooperation level is shown; the teal curve follows the observed evolutionary outcome.

All components have constant cooperation; the teal and purple levels cover the complete Nash outcome set.
Curves connect sampled values. At alpha = 0, every equilibrium and every trajectory is fully cooperative.